Every Business Man

has within him a desire to increase his income. He is not in business for pleasure, but for money.

Every Business Man

knows, or ought to know, that the best means of increasing his income is by the use of advertising.

Every Business Man

and every advertiser, however, does not know how to advertise correctly—how to obtain good results.

Every Business Man

ought to know that PRINTERS' INK teaches him this and more too.

Every Business Man

should know that he can obtain 52 practical lessons in the art of advertising, for the sum of $2. These 52 lessons are contained in a year's issues of PRINTERS' INK.

NOT BIASED.

The Radam Microbe Killer Co. has been advertising very extensively and with considerable success during the last few years, and this success is owing, to a large extent, to the experience which Mr. Hays, the present manager, employs in the selection of profitable mediums. In making up his list of papers to utilize, Mr. Hays is guided, to a considerable degree, by the circulation ratings in the American Newspaper Directory, and he is therefore competent to express an opinion as to their reliableness. Speaking of the Directory, Mr. Hays said:

"The publishers certainly endeavor to make the book as correct and as full of useful information to advertisers as care and the expenditure of money will allow. The issue for the present year is an extraordinarily valuable work. I cannot help thinking that a large proportion of the directories are biased in the ratings they accord by business considerations, but I am satisfied that this is not the case with the American Newspaper Directory. In my opinion, the $100 reward offered for proof of the falsity of a guaranteed rating insures their truthfulness. When a paper's rating is not given in figures or marked with an asterisk, I am forced to regard any claims to a large circulation it may make with a good deal of suspicion. When a publisher sends me a statement concerning the circulation of his paper, which does not agree with the rating accorded it in the Directory, I accept the latter, as I consider it more likely to be correct.

"I believe an advertiser ought to know the circulation of every paper which invites his business, and I therefore see no reason why publishers should refuse to furnish reasonable evidence of the extent to which their journals circulate."

In conclusion, Mr. Hays said: "I am convinced that an advertiser who is guided in his choice of mediums by the ratings accorded them in the Directory is not likely to be far astray."

DAGLIG TIDENDE; every evening except Saturday and Sunday, Sunday morning, and WEEKLY, Fridays; Norwegian-Danish; four pages 18x24, Sunday and weekly eight pages; subscription—daily and Sunday $8, weekly 50 cents; established—daily 1887, weekly 1851; S. Sorensen, editor; T. Guldbrandsen Publishing Co., publishers; circulation—daily H ✻ ✻, weekly F ✻.

Advertisement.—DAGLIG TIDENDE is the only Scandinavian daily in the Northwest. The best medium for reaching the large Scandinavian population of Minneapolis. Weekly TIDENDE is a continuation of the BUDSTIKKEN and the FAEDRELANDET OG EMIGRANTEN, the oldest Scandinavian paper in the United States, and has the largest circulation of any Scandinavian paper in Minnesota.

JOURNAL; every evening except Sunday; independent-republican; eight to sixteen pages 18x24; subscription $5; established 1878; J. S. McLain, editor; Journal Printing Co., publishers; circulation, actual average for the past year, 88,930.

Advertisement.—Guaranteed average daily circulation for 1894, 38,930. An increase of about 2,000 over 1893, no copies returned. All we ask is that you will inquire of any merchant in Minneapolis as to which daily paper has the largest circulation in the Northwest, and which is the best advertising medium to reach all classes. The JOURNAL is the popular "want ad" medium, and carries more paid wants than all the other dailies.

This paper is credited with a higher circulation rating than any other daily issued in the State of Minnesota, and the accuracy of its rating is guaranteed by the publishers of this Directory, who will pay a reward of one hundred dollars to the first person who proves that its issues were not as stated.

MARKET RECORD; every morning except Sunday; commercial; eight pages 9x12; subscription $3; established 1881; G. D. Rogers, editor and publisher; circulation K.

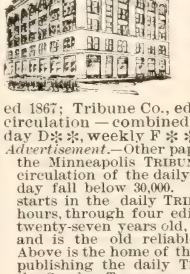
Advertisement.—Only daily paper in this State devoted to Commerce and Finance. This fact emphasizes the importance of this paper to an advertiser. The DAILY MARKET RECORD is the recognized commercial authority of the Northwest.

PENNY PRESS; every evening except Sunday, and SUNDAY REVIEW, Sundays; independent; daily four pages 16x22; Sunday eight pages 16x24; subscription—daily $2.50, Sunday 75 cents; established 1893; Alden J. Blenthen, editor and publisher; circulation—daily E.

TIMES; every morning; democratic; daily eight pages 18x24, Sunday twenty pages 20x24; subscription—daily $4.80, Sunday $1.50; established 1888; John Blanchard, editor; Minneapolis Times Co., publishers; circulation—daily E ✻ ✻, Sunday D ✻ ✻.

Advertisement.—THE MINNEAPOLIS TIMES, daily and Sunday, is the most valuable advertising medium of all the Northwestern morning newspapers. It is an 8-page morning paper, and its Sunday edition runs from 20 to 24 pages. The daily circulation from 18 to 20 thousand, the Sunday circulation from 55 to 60 thousand, guaranteed. Seven columns per page, 22 inches per column. If you want good advertising results always use the MINNEAPOLIS TIMES—it is Minnesota's greatest daily.

TRIBUNE; every morning, EVENING TRIBUNE, every evening except Sunday, and FARMERS' TRIBUNE, Thursdays; republican; morning and evening eight pages 18x24, Sunday twenty pages, weekly eight pages; subscription—morning $6, evening $4, Sunday $2, weekly $1; established 1867; Tribune Co., editors and publishers; circulation—combined daily C ✻ ✻, Sunday D ✻ ✻, weekly F ✻ ✻.



Advertisement.—Other papers talk of circulation, the Minneapolis TRIBUNE guarantees that the circulation of the daily will never in any one day fall below 30,000. An advertisement that starts in the daily TRIBUNE runs twenty-four hours, through four editions. The TRIBUNE is twenty-seven years old, owns its own building, and is the old reliable paper up this way. Above the home of the Minneapolis TRIBUNE, publishing the daily TRIBUNE (four editions), the Sunday TRIBUNE, and the Farmers' Twice-a-Week TRIBUNE.

$25 REWARD.

Any publisher who placed on file at the Directory office a true statement, conveying the requisite information concerning the issues of his paper, covering a full year, the same being duly signed and dated, and who finds now that the book has appeared his paper is not rated in accordance with the report which he sent, will receive from the publishers of the Directory a written apology for their neglect and a check for $25 for the discovery of the error. The publisher who registered the letter he sent containing the circulation statement, will find it easy to prove that one was sent and received. If he kept a copy it will be equally easy to establish the fact that the statement sent actually did contain the requisite information and was properly signed and dated.

Ratings Are High Enough.

An advertiser whose long experience in the advertising field qualifies him to speak as an authority, and makes his views of importance, is Mr. J. F. Place, the advertising manager of the Rochester Lamp Co., of New York City:

"In the twenty-five years I have been connected with the advertising business," said Mr. Place, "I have always held that an advertiser is perfectly right in demanding an accurate statement of the circulation of any paper he is asked to patronize. I should regard an advertiser as a very poor business man if he failed to insist upon the most convincing evidence of the correctness of the circulation claimed by any paper he purchases space in. I am persuaded that the circulation ratings accorded in the American Newspaper Directory are not influenced by any business or personal motive.

"I judge that they follow the same rule in the strict impartiality and truthfulness of their circulation ratings that the managers of a commercial agency do in their credit ratings.

"In choosing between the statement of a publisher and the rating accorded him in the American Newspaper Directory, I naturally accept the latter. I would give the circulation statement of the average publisher the same credence that I attach to the statement of the average merchant, when seeking credit, in respect to his capital, business and standing. In giving a merchant credit, any firm to whom he is unknown would ask for reference, and consult Dun or Bradstreet as to his rating. It is exactly the same in the case of a newspaper publisher who solicits advertising. When his statement is received, the shrewd and experienced advertiser immediately consults the American Newspaper Directory in order to as certain the rating accorded the circulation of his paper therein.

"I believe an advertising expenditure founded on the circulation reports in the Directory would be far more satisfactory in its results than if the publisher's statements only were considered, on the same principle that a mercantile business is more likely to be successful if Dun or Bradstreet's reports are accepted rather than the bare statements furnished by customers.

"I am convinced that the hundred dollars offered by the publishers of the Directory for proof of false reports insures their accuracy. It doubtless has a tendency to cause newspaper proprietors and managers to exercise caution in making their returns, and I judge from the small proportion who avail themselves of this privilege, thereby receiving a guaranteed rating, that they are fairly well satisfied with the estimates made of their papers' circulation. It seems to me that if they were under-rated they would certainly take the necessary trouble to make a true statement, and thus obtain proper rating. As I understand it, all the American Newspaper Directory publishers require is a simple statement of the number of each issue for a year. In justice to the advertisers who purchase the Directory, they could hardly demand less. It would be a reflection on the intelligence of any publisher to suppose he is ignorant of the number of copies of his paper printed. The natural presumption then is that, without a circulation statement from him, the rating accorded by the Directory is satisfactory, and that his paper receives credit for all the circulation it possesses."

Do You Want Good Printing?

I can do the best work reasonably, because I have every advantage in the way of labor-saving appliances. I have an abundance of material. I don't have to tear up one job to get type enough to set up another. I have fast presses and lots of them. A perfect system prevails in my office. Every minute is made to count. I print everything, set up ads attractively and furnish electrotypes when required.

News Ink.

On January 27th, 1894, I received my first order for ink, and since then I have received nearly four thousand (4,000) orders for News Ink, amounting to over four hundred thousand (400,000) pounds. My largest order at one time was for five thousand (5,000) pounds from the Publishers of the Augusta (Me.) Comfort.

My trade is all the more remarkable, as every pound of ink I sell is paid for before it leaves my office.

If I were to print the testimonials, beginning with the first one received, I could fill fifty full pages of this book. They come from every State and Territory in the Union, with the exception of Alaska. Every man who buys of me is satisfied. No one has complained.

I have never been out of my office to sell an ounce of ink. My trade has been secured wholly by advertising in PRINTERS' INK. I employ no agents and keep no books. My terms are Cash with the order, and if the money does not come I hold on to the ink. My prices are:

500-pound Barrel at 4c.	$20 00
250-pound Barrel at 4½c.	11 25
100-pound Keg at 5c.	5 00
50-pound Keg at 5½c.	2 75
25-pound Keg at 6c.	1 50

Give Me a Trial!

THE $100 REWARD.

When any one questions the accuracy of a guaranteed circulation rating in the American Newspaper Directory, and makes an attempt to collect the $100 reward offered in a case where the Directory has been imposed upon by an untruthful report, it becomes requisite, in order to obtain the reward, to furnish such proof as would be considered satisfactory by a Grand Jury or in a court of law when no defense is set up. Persons intending to enter a claim for the reward will do well to take the advice of a local attorney or a business man having experience in such matters. The publishers of the Directory pay the reward cheerfully when a case is made out, but it is not a part of their duty to aid in proving a publisher in the wrong, who, so far as they know, and would be glad to believe, may be absolutely right.

MISSOURI AND KANSAS FARMER, Published Monthly at Kansas City, Missouri.

THE MISSOURI AND KANSAS FARMER was established July 15th, 1884, by its present publisher, and it has never changed hands nor missed a mailing date. It is, and always has been, "all home print," and it sets every line of its own type—does not nor never has used stereotype plates to cheapen the cost of production. It is issued monthly (on 15th), at the remarkably low subscription rate of 25c. a year. It has eight large, clean-printed pages, with six columns (20 inches long) on each page. Every number is illustrated. It now has a regular circulation of 15,500 each issue.

RATES—Per Agate line 15c. or $2 per inch, each issue. DISCOUNTS—On 3-month contracts, 10 per cent; 6-month, 15 per cent; 12-month, 25 per cent. Forms close on 7th; paper issues on 15th.

606 WEST FOURTEENTH STREET. C. M. BROOKE, Editor and Publisher.

I Solicit Printing

FROM THOSE WHO WANT GOOD WORK.

AS a general thing, the fair way to do is to patronize home workmen, but in the matter of advertising it is different. Your local printer may be ever so good a workman, but he has not the assortment of material that I have—the type, the borders, the ornaments.

He cannot afford to buy them, because there is not enough high-class work in his city to justify the expense.

Many of the great advertisers of the United States bring their work to me. The leading ad writers of America come to my office when they have important jobs on hand. To hold this I am compelled to buy everything new in type faces and borders. I print every thing in first-class style.

Advertisement.— Rich Hill, the metropolis of Bates Co., has, besides its population proper, a suburban population of 2,000 miners and their families, also a fine agricultural country on all sides, settled by a thrifty people, whose trade is tributary to the town. The REVIEW (daily and weekly) has done the city printing for years on bids higher than competitors. Why? Because the DAILY REVIEW and MINING REVIEW are universally recognized, regardless of politics, as the papers of the territory they serve.

$25 Reward.

ANY publisher who placed on file at the Directory office a true statement conveying the requisite information concerning the issues of his paper, covering a full year, the same being duly signed and dated, and who finds now that the book has appeared his paper is not rated in accordance with the report which he sent, will receive from the publishers of the Directory a written apology for their neglect and a check for $25 for the discovery of the error. The publisher who registered the letter he sent containing the circulation statement, will find it easy to prove that one was sent and received. If he kept a copy it will be equally easy to establish the fact that the statement sent actually did contain the requisite information and was properly signed and dated.

THE

ST. LOUIS CRITIC

Of ST. LOUIS, MO.,

FURNISHES THE BEST.

When a weekly newspaper has been established 20 years, and it comes to you week after week with less advertising space sold than what would pay for the blank paper it is printed on, then that is evidence of circulation. The income of 99 papers out of every 100 is mainly, if not entirely, derived from advertisers. Not so with the ST. LOUIS CRITIC. It depends upon its subscribers for its income,

BETTER THAN AN OATH

AND IT GETS IT.

A limited amount of advertising space may be contracted for direct or through any reputable agency.

...Dollar Raising...

Dollars are the crop that is reaped from good advertising. Every advertiser hopes to plant pennies and raise dollars.

Good crops in advertising, as in farming, depend much on the planting and on the care given to cultivation.

Thirty years' experience has taught us how and where to plant. Write to us.

Anaconda Montana Standard

THE ANACONDA STANDARD is Montana's greatest daily. It has a guaranteed circulation of over 9,400 copies daily, and over 11,000 copies Sunday. Its circulation is not confined to the City of Anaconda, but covers the Pacific Northwest; circulating in all of the large cities of the State, particularly in Butte, Helena, Bozeman, Great Falls, Missoula, Dillon and Deer Lodge; in all but one of which it has a larger circulation than all the local papers combined. It also covers Idaho, Eastern Washington and Northern Wyoming thoroughly. It is the largest paper published between St. Paul, Minn., and Portland, Ore., and covers a field entirely its own. Montana is one of the richest States of the Union. Labor receives good pay, naturally money is plentiful. THE STANDARD is taken in the home of the stockgrower, farmer and worker in the great gold, silver and copper mines.

I see it Wherever I go!

Speaking of the American Newspaper Directory, Mr. S. C. Beckwith, the most successful of the New York special agents, says:

"I see it wherever I go.

"Prominent advertisers are constantly consulting it.

"When I approach an advertiser for a paper that I represent, the first thing he does is to spring Rowell on me.

"He hunts up the city and the paper; looks at the rating the Directory gives and then is ready to listen to me; but not till then.

"The new plan that permits placing an advertisement where an advertiser's eye may see it, at the very time when he is consulting the Directory for the purpose of deciding what papers to use in a specified State or city, pleases me.

"It has led me to urge all of my papers strongly to use advertising space in the Directory.

"An advertisement in such a position cannot be skipped.

"The advertiser sees the advertisement at just the moment when he is most interested in finding out about the particular paper.

"If the advertisement is truthful and its statements well expressed, it cannot fail to do good.

"A book rendering such a service to the better class of newspapers deserves to be patronized and protected, aided and encouraged."

IF ERIC THE RED

Had known how to advertise his discoveries his name would probably be held in as much honor as is Columbus'. That is the trouble with a good many business men to-day. They don't know how to advertise. This ignorance is inexcusable, as they can get all the instructions needed from the columns of PRINTERS' INK. All the brightest ad constructors contribute to its pages, and new and novel advertising schemes are explained. Send $2.00 to No. 10 Spruce St., New York, and receive PRINTERS' INK for one year.

Eustace S. Carroll, Lehi City, Utah.

Advertisement. — The Lincoln, Nebraska, STATE JOURNAL claims a larger daily circulation than any other morning or evening paper published in Nebraska. On November 15, 1894, it published a challenge to all papers making a similar claim to submit to a thorough examination by a committee of business men, one of said committee to be named by each paper, each party to deposit $200 with the understanding that each paper which failed to substantiate its claim should forfeit its deposit to the State Relief Commission. Up to this time this challenge has not been met. The actual average circulation for the three months preceding February 1, 1895, of the Nebraska STATE JOURNAL has been —Daily over 14,000, Sunday over 16,000, Semi-Weekly over 30,000, which statement can be verified at its office of publication.

THE ENGLISH OF IT,

From the Decorah Posten, Decorah, Iowa.
Issue of June 5th, 1894.

The American Newspaper Directory, udgivet i 10 Spruce St., New York City, har oprettet en Afdeling i sin '94 Udgave, som vil anbefale sig selv til baade Averterende og Udgivere. Alle Advertising Directories, Haand- og Aarbøger, sælger Spalterum til en Pris, som, hvis det antoges af Udgiveren ved Salget af hans Spalterum, vilde bringe ham en Masse Penge, men det af Directories saaledes solgte Spalterum er hidtil bleven betalt med Avertissementer af den Udgiver, som kjøbte Spalterummet i the directory.

Geo. P. Rowell & Co. sælger i deres '94 Udgave Spalterum kun for Kontant, og som Følge deraf er denne Udgave i Omfang ikke stort større end Halvdelen af Udgaven for det foregaaende Aar. Avertissementsiderne indeholder derimod saa meget bedre Oplysning for dem, der søger den. De er ikke opfyldt med Tilbud fra Udgivere, hvis Spalterum ikke har nogen Værdi, og som vil sælge det for hvadsomhelst. De Averterende, som findes i denne Udgave af the directory, er de, som virkelig har gode Blade, og som har Raad til at avertere dem. Saadanne Bladudgivere kan langt bedre betale Kontant end med Spalterum. Deres Spalterum repræsenterer Penge, og naar de ikke faar mere for det end en Mand, hvis Spalterum ikke repræsenterer Penge, kommer de simpelthen ind mellem en Masse Blade, saa deres Betydning falder bort og Pengene har de intet Udbytte af.

Vi har aldrig tidligere været tilfreds med Resultatet af at avertere i American Newspaper Directory eller nogen anden Newspaper Directory, men iaar tog vi en halv Side i American Newspaper Directory, betalte Kontant for den og forventer, at det vil vise sig at være det bedste Advertising Investment, vi nogensinde har gjort.

The American Newspaper Directory, published at 10 Spruce street, New York City, has instituted a departure in its '94 edition that will commend itself to both advertisers and publishers. All advertising directories, manuals and year books sell space at a rate which, were it adopted by the publisher in selling his space, would make him a lot of money, but the space so sold by directories has heretofore been paid for in advertising space furnished by the publisher who bought the space in the directory.

Geo. P. Rowell & Co., in their '94 edition, sell space for cash and cash only, and as a result that edition is not much more than one-half the size of the edition of the preceding year. The advertising pages really convey intelligent information to those who seek for it. They are not filled up with the flauntings of publishers whose space has no value and who will trade it for anything. The advertisers appearing in this issue of the Directory are those who really have good papers and who can afford to advertise them. Such publishers can much better pay cash than space. Their space represents money, and when they get no more for it than does the man whose space does not represent money they are simply crowded in with such a lot of papers that their identity cannot be determined and they practically pay coin of the realm for that which avails them nothing and for which fake publishers practically pay nothing.

We have never been satisfied heretofore with the investments which were the result of buying space in the American Newspaper Directory or any other newspaper directory, but this year we took a half a page in the American Newspaper Directory, paid cash for it, and think that it will prove one of the best advertising investments that we have ever made.

IS WHAT THE ADVERTISERS GET.

If you will look over its advertising columns, you will find the names of all the successful advertisers of this country. That tells the story. THE BEE gets results. It does this because it enjoys the confidence of its readers—they believe in THE BEE and the statements of its advertisers. This brings returns, and that's what advertisers are looking for just now.

Good Printing

I PRINT EVERYTHING. My specialties are circulars, street car cards, booklets, catalogues; but my particular specialty is setting up ads and furnishing electrotypes. In this thing of setting ads I honestly believe I can beat any other man in any other printing office. Probably no other printer in this whole country has such a thorough assortmont of type and borders as I have. I can make an ad stand right out boldly and brightly among its competitors. I can often make a quarter-page magazine ad show up better than ads occupying twice that space. I know when to use or not use borders. I know when black type is needed to impress an idea emphatically, and I know when light-faced type ought to be used.

NOT BIASED.

The Radam Microbe Killer Co. has been advertising very extensively and with conderable success during the last few years, and this success is owing, to a large extent, to the experience which Mr. Hays, the present manager, employs in the selection of profitable mediums. In making up his list of papers to utilize, Mr. Hays is guided, to a considerable degree, by the circulation ratings in the American Newspaper Directory, and he is therefore competent to express an opinion as to their reliableness. Speaking of the Directory, Mr. Hays said:

"The publishers certainly endeavor to make the book as correct and as full of useful information to advertisers as care and the expenditure of money will allow. The issue for the present year is an extraordinarily valuable work. I cannot help thinki g that a large proportion of the directories are biased in the ratings they accord by business considerations, but I am satisfied that this is not the case with the American Newspaper Directory. In my opinion, the $100 reward offered for proof of the falsity of a guaranteed rating insures their truthfulness. When a paper's rating is not given in figures or marked with an asterisk, I am forced to regard any claims to a large circulation it may make with a good deal of suspicion. When a publisher sends me a statement concerning the circulation of his paper which does not agree with the rating accorded it in the Directory, I accept the latter, as I consider it more likely to be correct.

"I believe an advertiser ought to know the circulation of every paper which invites his business, and I therefore see no reason why publishers should refuse to furnish reasonable evidence of the extent to which their journals circulate."

In conclusion, Mr. Hays said: "I am convinced that an advertiser who is guided in his choice of mediums by the ratings accorded them in the Directory is not likely to be far astray."

Every Advertiser in

The Evening Journal,

The family paper of

Jersey City, N. J.,

Testifies that his advertising done therein has paid him.

One patron, who was working a local coupon plan, wrote: "95 per cent of my answers came from the Journal."

Another says: "I shall double my advertising with the Journal during '95."

A third writes: "The Journal has paid me better than all other advertising I have done. There is nothing like the newspaper."

We can also point to a number of general advertisers who have used the columns of the Journal for many years. They are admitted to be the sharpest men in the business.

The American Newspaper Directory.

A PENNSYLVANIA OPINION:

The following extract from the leading editorial in the Chester, Pa., Times, of Thursday, September 27th, 1894, is of general interest at this time :

Years ago newspapers did not state their circulation, and the usefulness of the various journals to their patrons was clouded in mystery. Of late years, however, there has been a tendency toward frankness and honesty in the matter of newspaper circulation, although many publishers, especially those whose papers compare unfavorably with their rivals' in point of circulation, still refuse to make any definite statement regarding their editions, or else make indefinite statements so untrustworthy as to be of no value to the seeker after information. No influence has done more for the correction of this evil of misrepresentation than the American Newspaper Directory, published by George P. Rowell & Co., of New York. It seems to have been the particular mission of this publication and its able ally, PRINTERS' INK, to secure for advertisers some definite information as to the circulation of the newspapers of the country. The American Newspaper Directory makes every effort to secure correct, tabulated figures of circulation for every day of the year, and has met with great success in so doing. The Publishers of the Directory place so much confidence in the ratings given papers where the publishers make detailed statements, that they guarantee the correctness of them and pay a forfeit of $100 to any person who proves such a statement to be untrue. Despite this inducement to accuracy, there are many papers which will not furnish statements of their editions. The American Newspaper Directory has rendered a great service to advertisers in general and to honest newspaper publishers in its efforts to secure actual circulation statements, and the fact that it has to a great extent righted the evil, and placed honest newspapers in the position to which they are entitled, is the best argument as to the desirability of the publication of a directory. No newspaper publisher who desires to be perfectly honest with his patrons has any grievance against the Directory, and it is only those who are too careless to furnish a statement or are afraid to let their circulation figures see the light of day, who complain of the directory's efforts to secure reliable ratings. The American Newspaper Directory is one of the most useful business publications extant.

THE COURT JOURNAL

AND

OFFICIAL DISTRICT COURT RECORD

194 Broadway, New York City.

EDWARD McGID - - - Editor and Publisher

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

Official Journal of the District Courts and Board of Excise of the County of New York. Publishing Authentic reports of their Proceedings with a full list of all Licenses granted, Transfers made and cases for trial, with their results; Reports of the various association meetings and all matters of interest to the Liquor Trade and the District Courts.

Publishes information from all Legal Sources, particularly New York State, City and County.

Full lists of Chattel Mortgages, Judgments, as filed according to law.

Also devotes special attention and space to Insurance, Finance, Real Estate, Legislative and other Correspondence, etc.

On file in every Law Library throughout the Union.

THE COURT JOURNAL AND OFFICIAL DISTRICT COURT RECORD is the official Journal of the District Courts of New York, under the direction of the Justices thereof. It is a weekly journal and supplies a valuable want long desired and greatly needed by real estate owners, agents, lawyers and all connected with building or its many branches. It is kept on file by the largest real estate owners and operators.

It is invaluable to the large class of dealers who sell on the installment plan, such as furniture, piano, sewing machine, picture and carpet dealers, etc., as it furnishes an official copy of all mortgages executed during the week.

THE COURT JOURNAL AND OFFICIAL DISTRICT COURT RECORD is now in the fourteenth year of its existence and its success is so marked that it is on file in every public office in the County of New York, from the Supreme Court down ; and it is a recognized Journal for information on law matters for business men. Its circulation is now steadily maintained, 20,000 weekly. It has a limited space for advertisements on the sixth and seventh pages.

Our Circulation being among the best wholesale and retail houses and being of such a special and valuable nature to your business, I respectfully solicit your advertisement.

Established April, 1882.

OFFICE 184 WILLIAM ST., (P. O. BOX 1512) NEW YORK CITY.

Subscription prices: Daily edition, $6.00 per year; Sunday edition, $2.00 per year; weekly edition, $1.50 per year. THE NEW YORKER VOLKS-ZEITUNG is the largest and best daily newspaper in the United States printed and published by workingmen in the interests of the working classes. Ably edited, fearless and dauntless in its attacks and exposures of venality and corruption, it stands pre-eminent as the exponent of right, justice and liberty. Its aims are the noblest—the elevation and emancipation of the toilers, the fair equalization in the distribution of the riches, the products and the inherent value of the lands. Its doctrines and principles are those of humanity, pure and simple. Read THE NEW YORKER VOLKS-ZEITUNG, especially during political campaigns. Show it to your fellow-workmen. Induce your friends to study it. Do this and you will further your own interests thereby. Its readers being pledged to patronize the advertisers of their organ, the use of its columns to that end will prove a good investment.

The Little Schoolmaster In the Art Of Advertising.

Every one who is interested in advertising ought to be a subscriber to PRINTERS' INK: a journal for advertisers.

Printers' Ink is issued weekly, and is filled with contributions and helpful suggestions from the brightest minds in the advertising business.

Printers' Ink costs only two dollars a year. A sample copy will be sent on receipt of five cents.

ADDRESS
PRINTERS' INK,
10 Spruce St., - New York.

After December 31st, 1895, the subscription price will be increased to $5.00 a year.

$25 REWARD.

Any publisher who placed on file at the Directory office a true statement, conveying the requisite information concerning the issues of his paper, covering a full year, the same being duly signed and dated, and who finds now that the book has appeared his paper is not rated in accordance with the report which he sent, will receive from the publishers of the Directory a written apology for their neglect and a check for $25 for the discovery of the error. The publisher who registered the letter he sent containing the circulation statement, will find it easy to prove that one was sent and received. If he kept a copy it will be equally easy to establish the fact that the statement sent actually did contain the requisite information and was properly signed and dated.

POINTS FOR ADVERTISERS.

The Brooklyn Citizen.

FIRST—The Popular Newspaper of the thrifty People.
SECOND—The most widely circulated.
THIRD—While democratic in principle, it is acceptable to honest men, irrespective of their political proclivities.
FOURTH—It reaches the homes of the people of Brooklyn as no other Newspaper does.
FIFTH—It has no local rival as a Journal of the fireside.
SIXTH—Advertisers will be good enough to note that these—the foregoing points—are conceded by all the contemporaries of THE CITIZEN.

Advertisement.—The Brooklyn DAILY EAGLE was established in 1841 and it is the oldest newspaper in the city, and it is a recognized and valued institution of the city. It represents the life and character of Brooklyn, and is the exponent of all the city's best interests. Although it is credited with a higher circulation rating than any other paper issued in Kings County, the rating of circulation given by the American Newspaper Directory has never done justice to this paper. For reasons of their own the publishers of the EAGLE decline to give affidavits of circulation. Their books are always open to regular advertisers, however. The EAGLE'S circulation is in excess of the total circulation of all the other Brooklyn papers. It is actually entitled to the rating "B" of this Directory, rather than "C." The standing of the EAGLE is so well known in Brooklyn, and its rank as one of the leading papers of the country is so well recognized, that it is not deemed necessary to publish circulation figures. The paper publishes 12 and 16 pages daily and 24 and 28 pages on Sunday. It is a three-cent paper, and circulates not only throughout the entire city of Brooklyn, but in every town and village on Long Island. Brooklyn is a city having a population of over 1,000,000 people. It has four afternoon English newspapers and no morning dailies, save two which are published on Sundays only. The paper that gets into the homes of Brooklynites and is read by all members of the families is the Brooklyn DAILY EAGLE. Its value to advertisers who wish to reach the people of this community is apparent to any one who understands the newspaper situation. The home of the EAGLE is one of the finest equipped and handsomest newspaper offices in the country. The building is eight stories high, exclusive of the basement, and rises 129 feet from the ground on Washington street, with a frontage of 68 feet, and 198 feet on Johnson street. The extension of the basement under the sidewalk affords room on this floor for four Hoe Quadruple Perfection presses, with boilers, engines and hydraulic pumps. Within, the building is in style of finish of offices, halls, corridors, stairways and appurtenances surpassed by no modern building in the world. With the exception of a few rooms the EAGLE occupies the entire building, two floors being used for as fine and as perfect a job printing establishment as there is in the country, the other floors having the handsomely fitted up editorial rooms, a first-class art and engraving department, the information bureau, the composing rooms, with the very latest equipments, telex and almanac rooms. Besides this very large home office the EAGLE has found it necessary to establish commodious branch offices throughout the city, and bureaus in New York, Washington and Paris for the accommodation of Brooklyn tourists and foreign and local advertisers. With the march of time the Brooklyn EAGLE has kept step. The opening of the Chicago World's Fair found a handsome EAGLE bureau in Chicago for the free use and benefit of Brooklyn visitors. Over 20,000 people registered at this office and received valuable assistance. An institution that has steadily grown in popular favor and proved of inestimable value to advertisers is the EAGLE Free Information Bureau, occupying two large, light and elegantly fitted up rooms on the fourth floor of the office building. Here people may come and receive the most comprehensive information in regard to Winter sanitariums, summer and other resorts all over the world, educational institutions, railroad service, and, in fact, any information that might be desired and could be given of this description. Thousands of people have taken and are taking advantage of this entirely gratuitous service. The result has been an amount of advertising of this character that has not been equaled by any other journal. The EAGLE is constantly adding to its force of workers and to the utility of its departments. It is a strictly first-class, modern newspaper. Its enterprises are many, but all in a direct line with legitimate newspaper work. Its editorial page and the character of its news is refined and thoroughly high-toned. It enters into the best of families, and its influence is unquestioned. As an advertising medium it is certainly not excelled by any paper in the country. It is a home paper in a city of homes. The extraordinary amount of direct correspondence it receives from its constituency is a proof of its immediate and effective relations with its readers. Nothing is omitted that would benefit its readers. Everything is done to aid its advertisers. In fact, the Brooklyn EAGLE is a first-class and thoroughly up-to-date newspaper. A handsomely illustrated handbook, describing the EAGLE and its enterprises, may be had on application.

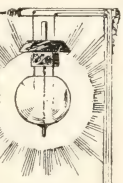
Light on Advertising



Experience throws the best light on advertising. Those who have tried it and found out what pays and what doesn't are the ones who write for PRINTERS' INK;—hard-headed business men. That makes every page practical. It is full of hints that you can take up and use to your own profit; not only on newspaper advertising, but on everything that actually draws trade.

From 40 to 60 pages every week.

$2. a year Sample copy free.

Mr. Harrington Fitzgerald, managing editor of the Philadelphia Item, says: "We never get done learning, and there is always something new, interesting and valuable in every issue of PRINTERS' INK."

Although some New York City Sunday papers doubtless print very large issues, the figures representing their actual output have not been accessible, and this fact possibly explains why it is that the largest issue credited to a Sunday paper in New York State is accorded to the Elmira TELEGRAM.—From Printers' Ink, issue of May 8th, 1895.

JOURNAL

FLUSHING,
LONG ISLAND,
NEW YORK.

DAILY AND WEEKLY

J. H. RIDENOUR, Editor and Proprietor.

The JOURNAL is one of the most influential newspapers on Long Island and next to the Brooklyn papers comes first in the estimation of the leading advertisers who desire to cover the most prosperous and settled districts.

Its columns show that all the first-class advertisers, those whose goods are best known and most talked of, are in the JOURNAL.

They come—they stay—and therefore must find it profitable.

THE advertiser who will use but one evening paper in New York City will, nine times out of ten, act wisely in selecting THE EVENING POST.—Printers' Ink, New York.

A STEADY GROWTH. Circulation: In 1894 the average per day was 24,050 copies, an increase of fifty per cent in four years. Advertising in 1894 amounted to 8,495 columns; 656 columns more than in 1893 and 2,720 columns more than in 1889.

A COMPARISON. During 1894 THE EVENING POST contained 32 per cent more advertising than any other New York evening paper (in 1893 the excess was 25 per cent), and double what most of them contained—a visible concession to its superior value as an advertising medium.

QUALITY OF CIRCULATION. The readers of THE EVENING POST are usually well-to-do, the most profitable customers, and its circulation cannot be duplicated. It reaches the men first, then their homes, each copy usually having several readers—two circulations at the cost of one.

QUALITY OF ADVERTISING. Representative houses in all lines of business are the largest advertisers. Unworthy and disagreeable advertising is excluded. The rates are invariable, and the advertisements are set under competent direction, and well printed on good paper.

POINTS TO ADVERTISERS!

Point I.—There is no dispute among newspaper men or among advertisers on this point—that The Sun, Morning, Evening, Sunday, is the BEST newspaper published in this country ; why say the whole world ?

Point II.—As a result of Point I., it follows that The Sun is more thoroughly read, and read by more people of intelligent appreciation than is any other newspaper published.

Point III.—And as a final result, affecting particularly the advertiser, an announcement in The Sun becomes most effective, outlay considered. There is no firing at random ; the appeal is made direct to those whom the advertiser desires to reach.

Point IV.—And because of all this it is true that The Sun comes very near to the making of advertising a science ; it at least holds the beacon light.

A Story by one who Knows.

ADVERTISING AS A SALESMAN.

By the Secretary of the Typothetæ.

Editor of PRINTERS' INK:

The recent advertisements of Jonson, of the inks he has to sell, are as they should be. In no department of a printing office is there more waste, and in none is there less knowledge than in inks. It is impossible often to tell what the true value of a certain brand is, but whatever it is the charge to the customer is enhanced unduly by the expenses of selling. The trouble is the ink manufacturer does not deal directly with the printer. He deals with his confidential manager, his superintendent, or his foreman, sometimes with the individual pressman. Each of these men must be looked after, acquaintance made with him, and time lost, even when the ink salesman thinks that nothing else is requisite. His orders are small. It is a large office that buys a thousand dollars' worth of ink a year, and none exceed ten thousand. These amounts, reduced to semi-monthly orders, are but forty dollars and four hundred dollars. Many orders are for only a dollar or two, and the majority rarely exceed twenty or thirty. It is therefore evident that the system of selling by travelers is very wasteful. With his salary, his railroad fares, his hotel bills, and his incidentals, the expenses of a salesman mount up to a very high figure, even when the men are successful ones and the sales go off with reasonable frequency. It rarely happens, too, that all of the inks of one establishment are bought from one factory, being divided among two or three, if not more. The expenses eat up the profits. It is a case similar to that of a milkman. He buys his milk at two and a half cents a quart, and sells it at eight cents. Yet no one ever heard of a retail milkman becoming rich. He must stop at each house, knock at each door, find how much is required, pour it out, and go on to the next place, for four or eight cents in the former case a cent and a quarter being for the milk, and two and three-quarters for the attendance, the horse, and the work generally. I like Mr. Jonson's idea of selling to the printer direct. His advertising costs him something, but not as much as salesmen would, and he is able to make the proper discount, based upon lower expenses.

I am also gratified that he has taken this departure, on account of an abuse which has grown up in our trade, and which most manufacturers have been compelled to allow, although they do not countenance it. It is the practice of making presents to confidential men, and men whose voice is potential in determining what ink shall be used. In many cases it is pure bribery. If no presents are given, the ink is not satisfactory; if they are given, the ink works admirably. There is not much difference between the inks made by different houses. Except for special jobs, almost any one can manufacture an ink that will do very well. All employ the same ingredients on ordinary priced inks; all have the same machinery, and all have chemists, with a scientific education. There exists, however, wide difference between their managers as to business ability and as to squareness of business methods. In an investigation I made some years ago on this subject, I found that this habit of bribery was very extensive, and that the number of suits of clothes for Mr. Pica, of silk dresses for Mrs. Pica, of remembrances for wedding anniversaries, of trips to New York or to Niagara, was perfectly wonderful. It is touching to see the love that the ink salesman has for the foreman of a press-room that has ten or twelve cylinders. It is like that of David for Jonathan. As long as the affection continues, and the pressman remains the recipient of monthly, quarterly, or semi-annual gratifications, no other ink than that which the salesman represents will be used. Let the honorariums cease, however, and the foreman will soon learn of another that is full in color, works easily, and dries quickly, while being fine enough for his needs. Direct sales like those of Mr. Jonson will lessen this evil very much, and indeed will almost kill it. This question has long been before the Typothetæ. It is to be wished that manufacturers would imitate him, and that the time might soon come when all inks would be sold on their intrinsic merits, and not upon favor, or upon douceurs. If the ink of any of them cannot be made to work, the fault is the pressman's. He does not desire it to work. I know of a dozen cases in which inks have been changed, one celebrated maker being put in the place of another. In each case objections were made by foremen. Substantially the answer was: "Mr. J., I have bought that ink to use. If you can't handle it, I have no doubt I can find some other pressman who can." In no instance was it necessary to go beyond this. All were successful in their attempts.

Yours truly,

W. W. PASKO.

Johnston's Job Inks Are the Best in the World.

OPINION OF AN EXPERT.

THE LOTUS PRESS, NATHAN BROS., 140 W. 23D STREET, NEW YORK.
Experts in Typography. Telephone 1131-18th st.
NOVEMBER 8, 1894.

MR. JONSON, 8 SPRUCE ST., N. Y. CITY.

Dear Sir—We are getting our inks from you and have given you some severe tests. We did not think it possible that there could be such a vast difference in the prices of the same grades of ink, and if you had not made your statements so emphatic in your PRINTERS' INK ads, we might still be paying three prices for the identical goods we are now buying from you. On our work we require printing inks of the very finest quality, regardless of price, consequently our first order was given with considerable doubt. We understood your agreement to refund the money if not satisfied, but we did not want the annoyance of an unsatisfactory experiment, entailing waste of time, ruffled temper, and loss of confidence in human nature. However, we made the experiment, and the result is you are now supplying us with all the inks we use. We formerly had a great deal of trouble with some brown inks, and are happy to say, that while all the inks we have bought of you are entirely satisfactory, the brown is superior to any we have ever used at any price. We have always contended that "the best is good enough," and we are satisfied that yours is the best.

Yours very truly, THE LOTUS PRESS, per P. N.

In a recent advertisement in PRINTERS' INK, Charles Austin Bates, the ad-smith, in commenting upon his facilities for compiling, writing, arranging, illustrating and printing catalogues and booklets, said of the Lotus Press:

"THERE ARE NO BETTER PRINTERS THAN THESE."

Mr. Fred. C. Ringer, Secretary of the Geo. P. Rowell Advertising Company, whose reputation as a connoisseur of art printing stands very high, was recently heard to assert, after looking over a handful of specimens, productions of the Lotus Press, that he had rarely seen a collection that would compare with them in beauty of design and perfection of workmanship.

Of good common sense fine printing, it is probable that no one in New York does more or better than I do myself, I, William Johnston. But for chrysanthemum shades, odor of the otto of rose, and for gold lacquer finish, I yield the palm to the Lotus Press, and doubt if their superiors are to be found in all America. Those who have never seen specimens of the work of the Lotus Press ought to send for some; they may not be forthcoming, but the chance of getting them will be worth more than the cost of an application.

No black ink was ever made that I cannot duplicate at a dollar a pound; and I sell four ounces of carmine for fifty cents, of highest grade ever known! But cash has to come with the order.

Address, with check,

PICK OUT YOUR STATES

Look through the Directory. Examine statistics, populations, circulations, territory. Pick out the States you wish to reach first, and write us a letter about it. We can place you in any of the papers enumerated in the Directory to just a little bit better advantage than anybody else can. Chances are we can get you a better price—certain it is we can get you better results. There is no guess work about that. We can do it. We have been getting results for our clients for 30 years. We are better equipped now and know more than we ever did before.

Advertisement.—As the editor of the Directory received no reply to circulars sent the STREET RAILWAY GAZETTE, he, as usual in such cases, reduced the circulation rating of the paper. After tables had been prepared and printed, based on the respective circulations given the different papers in the Directory, evidence was furnished the editor which, if he had received it in time, would have entitled the STREET RAILWAY GAZETTE to a much higher rating. $800,000,000 is already invested in street railway enterprises in America, and the GAZETTE is the only weekly street railway publication in the world. Established January 1st, 1886, as a monthly, and since 1892 issued weekly, the paper was recently purchased by the present publishers, whose facilities and two decades of practical experience in this field of technical journalism are well known. Since the change in management the circulation is being steadily and vigorously pushed, the smallest edition printed being 1,500, while the average for the year will be 2,500. The GAZETTE is a live and energetic medium, thoroughly covering and giving closest access to the commercial opportunities of an important, extensive and actively growing business.

American Newspaper Directory

A PENNSYLVANIA OPINION:

The following extract from the leading editorial in the Chester, Pa., Times, of Thursday, September 27th, 1894, is of general interest at this time:

Years ago newspapers did not state their circulations, and the usefulness of the various journals to their patrons was clouded in mystery. Of late years, however, there has been a tendency toward frankness and honesty in the matter of newspaper circulation, although many publishers, especially those whose papers compare unfavorably with their rivals in point of circulation, still refuse to make any definite statement regarding their editions, or else make indefinite statements so untrustworthy as to be of no value to the seeker after information. No influence has done more for the correction of this evil of misrepresentation than the American Newspaper Directory, published by George P. Rowell & Co., of New York. It seems to have been the particular mission of this publication and its able ally, PRINTERS' INK, to secure for advertisers some definite information as to the circulation of the newspapers of the country. The American Newspaper Directory makes every effort to secure correct, tabulated figures of circulation for every day of the year, and has met with great success in so doing. The publishers of the Directory place so much confidence in the ratings given papers where the publishers make detailed statements, that they guarantee the correctness of them and pay a forfeit of $100 to any person who proves such a statement to be untrue. Despite this inducement to accuracy, there are many papers which will not furnish statements of their editions. The American Newspaper Directory has rendered a great service to advertisers in general and to honest newspaper publishers in its efforts to secure actual circulation statements, and the fact that it has to a great extent righted the evil, and placed honest newspapers in the position to which they are entitled, is the best argument as to the desirability of the publication of a directory. No newspaper publisher who desires to be perfectly honest with his patrons has any grievance against the Directory, and it is only those who are too careless to furnish a statement or are afraid to let their circulation figures see the light of day, who complain of the directory's efforts to secure reliable ratings. The American Newspaper Directory is one of the most useful business publications extant.

DOES MAIL ORDER ADVERTISING PAY?

During the past year general business depression and other causes have occasioned the frequent complaint that it does not. Advertisers who have heretofore had good results in this line have been obliged to reduce their expenditure or stop it entirely. In the face of all this we are not afraid to boldly assert that

CHEERFUL MOMENTS

WILL PAY, and we are willing to stake our reputation on a small advertisement inserted one time if properly constructed and appropriate to our medium.

CAN ANYTHING BE FAIRER?

CHEERFUL MOMENTS has a guaranteed circulation of over 105,000, each month, almost all of which goes to yearly subscribers, all of whom are house-holders.

Here's Proof

That the Metropolitan and Rural Home Pays Advertisers:

NEW YORK, March 2d, 1895.

METROPOLITAN AND RURAL HOME,
45 Vesey St., City.

GENTLEMEN—We are pleased to state that the thirteen-line advertisement has been doing very well, in your publication, and while returns for January were large, we note that during February we made four hundred and thirty-nine sales, as the direct result of this one advertisement. Of course we want it to run till forbid.

Yours truly,
NEW YORK MUSICAL ECHO CO.
J. LIPPMAN, Mgr.

CINCINNATI, April 13th, 1895.

PUBLISHERS METROPOLITAN AND RURAL HOME,
New York City.

DEAR SIRS—We received to-day renewal of Moody & Co.'s order for the May issue. * * * * Your assertion that the METROPOLITAN AND RURAL HOME would pay this firm has been justified by the facts. They are well pleased. * * * *
Yours very truly,
GEO. S. PARVIN,
Doughty.

PLENTY MORE PROOF ON APPLICATION.

The METROPOLITAN AND RURAL HOME is a monthly Agricultural and Family Journal. It has been established a quarter of a century and has subscribers in every State of the Union. Its smallest issue within one year, as guaranteed by this edition of the American Newspaper Directory, is 500,000 COPIES.

Intending advertisers are invited to investigate and satisfy themselves that the above claim is fully borne out by evidence strong enough to convince the most skeptical.

NO PROOF, NO PAY.

This wide circulation is chiefly among the well-to-do farmers, and is distributed in nearly every township of the United States. Profitable for all General Advertisers.

The Advertising Rates,

Based on the proved circulation, are exceedingly low.

$2.00 per Agate Line monthly.
$2.50 per Agate Line for reading notices.

No discounts for time. Special rates for Agricultural and Seed Advertising. Correspondence solicited.

Notices of discontinuance must be received by the 7th of month preceding date of issue. Advertisements can be inserted as late as the 15th for the succeeding month's issue.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE FIFTY CENTS PER YEAR.

Ratings Are High Enough.

An advertiser whose long experience in the advertising field qualifies him to speak as an authority, and makes his views of importance, is Mr. J. F. Place, the advertising manager of the Rochester Lamp Co., of New York City:

"In the twenty-five years I have been connected with the advertising business," said Mr. Place, "I have always held that an advertiser is perfectly right in demanding an accurate statement of the circulation of any paper he is asked to patronize. I should regard an advertiser as a very poor business man if he failed to insist upon the most convincing evidence of the correctness of the circulation claimed by any paper he purchases space in. I am persuaded that the circulation ratings accorded in the American Newspaper Directory are not influenced by any business or personal motive.

"I judge that they follow the same rule in the strict impartiality and truthfulness of their circulation ratings that the managers of a commercial agency do in their credit ratings.

"In choosing between the statement of a publisher and the rating accorded him in the American Newspaper Directory, I naturally accept the latter. I would give the circulation statement of the average publisher the same credence that I attach to the statement of the average merchant, when seeking credit, in respect to his capital, business and standing. In giving a merchant credit, any firm to whom he is unknown would ask for reference, and consult Dun or Bradstreet as to his rating. It is exactly the same in the case of a newspaper publisher who solicits advertising. When his statement is received, the shrewd and experienced advertiser immediately consults the American Newspaper Directory in order to as certain the rating accorded the circulation of his paper therein.

"I believe an advertising expenditure founded on the circulation reports in the Directory would be far more satisfactory in its results than if the publisher's statements only were considered, on the same principle that a mercantile business is more likely to be successful if Dun or Bradstreet's reports are accepted rather than the bare statements furnished by customers.

"I am convinced that the hundred dollars offered by the publishers of the Directory for proof of false reports insures their accuracy. It doubtless has a tendency to cause newspaper proprietors and managers to exercise caution in making their returns, and I judge from the small proportion who avail themselves of this privilege, thereby receiving a guaranteed rating, that they are fairly well satisfied with the estimates made of their papers' circulation. It seems to me that if they were under-rated they would certainly take the necessary trouble to make a true statement, and thus obtain proper rating. As I understand it, all the American Newspaper Directory publishers require is a simple statement of the number of each issue for a year. In justice to the advertisers who purchase the Directory, they could hardly demand less. It would be a reflection on the intelligence of any publisher to suppose he is ignorant of the number of copies of his paper printed. The natural presumption then is that, without a circulation statement from him, the rating accorded by the Directory is satisfactory, and that his paper receives credit for all the circulation it possesses."

POKE OUT YOUR HEAD

Space in the newspapers and magazines costs lots of money. It costs just as much whether the ad is well displayed or poorly displayed. It's the worst kind of economy to send in copy and take chances that the printer will make a good ad of it. The right way is to send your copy to me and have your ads set up and electrotyped.

I can make an ad poke its head right out of the midst of the other advertisements around it. No difference what you sell or where you advertise, the wisest way is to mail your copy to me to be set up artistically and conspicuously, and send 2-cent stamp for my booklet.

EUREKA!

Translation: "I (Printers Ink Jonson) have found it."

A new, novel and effective method for the economical and advantageous purchase of News Inks.

It has been considered something to laugh at, but it is nevertheless a serious fact, that a few years ago an ink agent offered me five dollars for my own pocket if I would purchase a barrel of his ink for use on the Herald, he evidently being ignorant of the fact that I was not only manager of the Herald, but had money invested in the institution. This occurrence has often brought to my mind the query whether it is not possible for some better plan to be adopted for the sale and purchase of this needful article in a printing office. It is a very open secret that nearly every ink house—if not every ink house—has an account for expenses, the money for which goes into other hands than those of the real buyer for the newspaper. Almost any plan that would do away with this vicious custom would be satisfactory. Again, the country is more than effectively canvassed by traveling men, and these men's expenses must necessarily in the end come out of the consumer. It seems to me that, if some inventive genius could complete a plan whereby this saving could be made, a reduction in the cost of the article to newspapers would ensue. Besides, the same ink is sold in different places all the way from 4½ cents a pound up to 8 and, perhaps, 10 cents. Of course, a large consumer naturally expects to get goods cheaper than a smaller one, but it is not possible to justify differences as great as the wide range that I have just indicated.

ARTHUR JENKINS.

—Arthur Jenkins, of the Syracuse, N. Y., Herald, in Newspaperdom for February.

I am the inventive genius that Mr. Jenkins saw in his mind's eye.

I have completed a plan whereby the greatest possible saving in the price of News Ink can be made.

It is new!

It is novel!

It is revolutionary!

Me and John Randolph invented it together, and John used to call my plan "The Golden Rule."

It is simply—"Pay as you go!"

It reduces the price more than half!

It does away with the vicious custom complained of!

On trial my plan is found more than satisfactory.

It is simply delightful!

For impecunious printers my plan possesses an important and novel advantage well worth pointing out: Printers who buy of me are never in debt for news ink.

They find it ever so much more pleasant to have 500 pounds of ink in stock that has been paid for than to owe twice the amount for ink of poorer quality that has already been used.

The quality of my ink is a good deal superior to that bought on credit at double the price.

My inks are the best in the world!

THE VERY, VERY BEST.

To insure an ink that will exactly suit, all that has to be done is to send a copy of the paper to be printed, tell the kind of press used, the temperature of the pressroom, and send a check.

The last specification is even more important than either of the others. In some cases I have waived the three specifications first set down, but the fourth one NEVER.

My prices are:

500-pound Barrel at 4c..	$20 00
250-pouad Barrel at 4½c.,	11 25
100-pound Keg at 5c.,	5 00
50-pound Keg at 5½c.,	2 75
25-pound Keg at 6c.,	1 50

The Troy Northern Budget

BUDGET BUILDING

C. L. MAC ARTHUR & SON,

TROY, N. Y.

THERE are two classes of advertising that are special features of the TROY BUDGET, and whenever anybody wants anything that they can obtain by advertising they use the transient small advertisements of the BUDGET. The other is the financial advertisements. Bankers, brokers and financial investments find in the BUDGET the best medium for advertising in this vicinity. In the wide scope both ends are covered, the small wants, for sales, to lets, etc., and the banks, bankers and investors. Why it pays the small advertiser—The first page Want advertisements of the BUDGET reach the right class of people, the home readers of Troy and vicinity. They are the buying class. Why it pays the banker—For ninety-seven years the TROY BUDGET has found its way once a week into the homes of the largest, most intelligent and generally prosperous newspaper constituencies in the United States. That is an establishment which begets a confidence in its statements. The best test of a paper is its appreciation by home advertisers. No paper published in the State of New York, outside of New York City, has as large advertisements from single home business firms nor as many of them as the TROY BUDGET. Its immediate home territory for circulation covers a hundred miles in every direction from Troy. When you want any advertising in Troy or vicinity, or Northern or Eastern New York, Vermont or Massachusetts, try the TROY BUDGET.

We would call your attention to the fact that the best indication of the value of a paper as an advertising medium is the advertisements in it of the local people. They are the people who are on the spot, know the paper, know what it will do and know how an investment in its advertising columns will pay.

1/4 " Rep. Dark Green, to Matches Wales No 79 1.00

$2.00

I herewith I enclose check for $2.00

Yours Truly

J. G. Holden

Your Mr. Funk, while I have ever been using for some time, gives entire satisfaction.

A good thing about buying JOB INKS of Jonson, No. 8 Spruce Street, New York, is the fact that you don't have to buy any more than you want. He sells ¼-lb cans of Carmines, Bronze Scarlets, Purples or Gold Inks for 50 cents a can, and any other colors or qualities you ever heard of for 25 cents a can, or Poster Inks, any color, in 5-lb. cans, for one dollar a can. You order from anybody's specimen book and Jonson will match the goods; but you will not get an ounce if you do not send the money with the order.

Claims most readers for least circulation of any paper in U. S. Prints between 1,000 and 1,200 (1,075 to-day, April 15, '95) copies daily, but proprietors know of one town in which, while the CITIZEN has but 12 subscribers, it has at least 50 readers. So it goes all over Buncombe County (pop. 33,000), and also in the 12 other counties (pop. 150,000) of Western North Carolina, in which, remember, there is no other daily paper than the CITIZEN. Proprietors not especially proud of this peculiar circulation, but state it exactly as it is, and advertisers can take it or leave it—suiting their necessities as to that. CITIZEN has—note this fact—abundant patronage by home advertisers, and it pays good prices. Foreign advertisers who want money from the CITIZEN'S field must use that paper. J. P. Kerr, W. F. Randolph, F. E. Robinson, proprietors.

THE $100 REWARD.

WHEN any one questions the accuracy of a guaranteed circulation rating in the American Newspaper Directory, and makes an attempt to collect the $100 reward offered in a case where the Directory has been imposed upon by an untruthful report, it becomes requisite, in order to obtain the reward, to furnish such proof as would be considered satisfactory by a Grand Jury or in a court of law when no defense is set up. Persons intending to enter a claim for the reward will do well to take the advice of a local attorney or a business man having experience in such matters. The publishers of the Directory pay the reward cheerfully when a case is made out, but it is not a part of their duty to aid in proving a publisher in the wrong, who, so far as they know, and would be glad to believe, may be absolutely right.

The Religious Telescope

IS the weekly organ of the United Brethren Church. Its constituency represents the cultured and well-to-do membership of that growing denomination. As an advertising medium it has a field particularly its own. Being a denominational paper of high character, favorably affects the advertiser and his advertisement. Leading advertisers use its columns regularly. Its circulation is largely in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa and Kansas, while Western New York, Michigan, Virginia and West Virginia, and the Western States are fairly represented. The fact that the advertising columns are under the most careful supervision, nothing being admitted concerning the character of which there is any reasonable doubt, assures an advertiser that he is in most excellent company, and that his money is invested where reasonable returns may be anticipated.

THE Anzeiger has been since its establishment one of the leading papers of Cincinnati, and has been of such influence that it is generally known throughout the country.

It circulates among a class who are thrifty, intelligent, and they become good patrons to the advertisers who use the paper.

Careful in buying, quick to see, they take advantage of articles of merit brought to their attention through their favorite newspaper.

Advertising Rates, which are reasonable, will be furnished on application.

Weekly B ✻ ✻. Office Fourth and Race streets.

Advertisement.—The Cincinnati COMMERCIAL GAZETTE is admittedly the leading Republican paper of Ohio. No other paper published in Cincinnati enjoys relatively so large a circulation in the homes of its readers, and its Semi-Weekly goes among the richest and most prosperous country families in the State. That it pays the general as well as the local advertiser is evidenced by their continued use of its columns. Its average circulation for the last six months of 1894 was: Daily 39,326, Sunday 49,123, Semi-Weekly 49,793, proof of which statement will be furnished advertisers at its publication office.

Good Printing

I PRINT EVERYTHING. My specialties are circulars, street car cards, booklets, catalogues; but my particular specialty is setting up ads and furnishing electrotypes. In this thing of setting ads I honestly believe I can beat any other man in any other printing office. Probably no other printer in this whole country has such a thorough assortmont of type and borders as I have. I can make an ad stand right out boldly and brightly among its competitors. I can often make a quarter-page magazine ad show up better than ads occupying twice that space. I know when to use or not use borders. I know when black type is needed to impress an idea emphatically, and I know when light-faced type ought to be used.

On the Face of it

A newspaper shows its character right on its face—like a man. Experienced advertisers can almost tell the circulation and value of a paper by looking at it. Their judgment is better than sworn statements.

It is easy to see why

THE CLEVELAND WORLD

has built up a solid circulation of over 40,000 copies daily. You can look through the paper and see just why it interests the very best people. It publishes ten times as much financial advertising as all the other Cleveland papers combined. It has a specially interesting woman's page. Its whole effort is to please and satisfy its readers. That makes it good for advertisers. Ten dollars will buy more circulation in the WORLD than in any other Cleveland paper. For exact rates, address THE WORLD PUB. CO.,

Cleveland, O., June 14th, 1894.

Mr. Wm. Johnston,

10 Spruce St.,

New York, N. Y.

Dear Sir:--

Your letter of June 11th received.

At the time my attention was first attracted by your advertising in Printers' Ink we had just placed a good-sized order with another ink concern and also had on hand several barrels. Impressed by your positive assertion that your four-cent ink was equal to any news ink made, I ordered a barrel as a sample. Finding this satisfactory, I repeated the order, and again twice more, in order to give the ink a thorough trial.

I had your ink run upon one press alongside of another press using a much higher-priced ink, and compared results carefully. There was no appreciable difference in the output, your ink printing as many copies of "The World" per pound of ink used; and the color and general qualities were just as good. The superintendent of our pressroom, a first-class man, was skeptical before the ink was tried, but afterwards expressed his complete satisfaction with it. He is still doubtful as to the quality of your ink being maintained, and is just the man to kick if it is not; but no ink house has any mortgage on this office or its pressman.

The reason you have not had other orders from us is because we desire to work off the supply on hand from other concerns. As soon as this gets down you will hear from us again, and frequently, as we use considerably more than a ton a month on "The World". Thus far it has been against our policy to order our entire supply from any one house. We may decide to change this policy.

Yours very truly,

B. F. Bower

Cleveland, O., Sept. 21, 1894.

I calculate that we are saving just $20 per week by buying our ink of you. This is more than half the salary of a good pressman.

B. F. BOWER, Manager.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 29, 1895.

Printers' Ink Jonson, 8 Spruce St., New York:

Dear Sir—The inclosed check for $100 is to pay for twenty-five hundred pounds of your one, only and best news ink, which please ship at once. Your ads in Printers' Ink sound like sections of artillery fire. There is no mistaking their meaning. The last ink traveler who called told me in dead earnest that it was reprehensible in us to countenance a concern like yours. I laughed, and suppose you will. I told him and I tell you that the ink runs well, and we have been entirely satisfied. Yours truly,

B. F. BOWER.

I Solicit Printing

FROM THOSE WHO WANT GOOD WORK.

AS a general thing, the fair way to do is to patronize home workmen, but in the matter of advertising it is different. Your local printer may be ever so good a workman, but he has not the assortment of material that I have—the type, the borders, the ornaments.

He cannot afford to buy them, because there is not enough high-class work in his city to justify the expense.

Many of the great advertisers of the United States bring their work to me. The leading ad writers of America come to my office when they have important jobs on hand. To hold this I am compelled to buy everything new in type faces and borders. I print everything in first-class style.

LEADING COUNTY PAPER

for more than three-quarters of a century. It has the confidence of the people; they rely on what they see

In The Gazette.

There may be county papers that pay better returns to the advertiser than THE GAZETTE, but they are scarce; we doubt if there are many that pay as well.

Rates are low. Semi-Weekly circulation, 3,500; Daily, 1,500. We will be glad to correspond with advertisers.

THE GALLIPOLIS TRIBUNE.

WILLIAM G. SIBLEY, EDITOR.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE, ONE DOLLAR.
PAYABLE IN ADVANCE.

WEDNESDAY.....JANUARY 16, 1895.

About two months ago the Tribune contained an editorial paragraph calling attention to the fact that good news ink was being sold by Printers Ink Jonson of New York for half the price country editors were obliged to pay the old companies. We advised our neighboring editors to do business with the New York man.

A few weeks later a gentleman came to this office and presented a card reading as follows:

' CINCINNATI
PRINTING INK
COMPANY.
56 Longworth Street,
Cincinnati, O."

Our caller took exceptions to our remarks about Jonson's ink, and claimed it was poor stuff, unreliable and practically worthless. When we called his attention to good work we were doing with it he said it was simply a bait—we'd be stuck on the next lot. The Cincinnati Post, he said, had a good sample lot from Jonson, and then ordered two tons, which they were obliged to throw out when it came.

We were in New York last week and made a pleasant call at No. 10 Spruce Street, where we found Printers Ink Jonson engaged in his duties as foreman of the Printers' Ink office. Incidentally the claims of the Cincinnati Printing Ink Company's agent were mentioned, and Mr. Jonson, after an examination of his books, found that he had never sold a pound of ink to the Cincinnati newspaper named. As if that fact might not be enough to convince us, Mr. Jonson added that any ink sold by him could be returned at his expense if not satisfactory.

We mention these matters because country editors have been paying enormous and exorbitant prices for news and job inks, and now that a man has arisen in the trade who furnishes news ink for half the old prices, and job inks at even greater reductions, we think he should be patronized and sustained by the fraternity, and given the preference because of the revolution in prices he has brought about. We hope none of our brethren will be deceived by the fairy tales of the printing ink drummers who are worried by Jonson's prices.

This is a pen portrait of the INK SALESMAN who fled about Jonson's Inks. All his cash paying customers buy of Jonson now, and his dealings with the others who pay with notes renewable at pleasure have reduced him to the condition here shown.

Leads in Everything.

It is a fact known to every man and woman of intelligence in Springfield, and Clark County, Ohio, that there is not another paper in that section of the Buckeye State giving such an excellent foreign news service, so complete a local service or half as much interesting family matter as the

Springfield Republic-Times

It is the only daily paper in the city giving eight pages every issue and requiring the aid of the latest improved typesetting machinery and a perfecting press. It is the recognized oracle of the party of progress in the City of Springfield; and its elder brother—

The Weekly Republic

has for more than 78 years been the one local paper of the County of Clark which through thick and thin has been devoted to the people's interest, and which has always been depended upon by the rural population as a friend that never deceives them. THE REPUBLIC-TIMES has a younger brother worthy the support of progressive advertisers. We refer to which although young in years has already made a nest in the homes of the people of this section that is warming and widening with every succeeding week and month. You will be delighted with the returns you will receive from either, any or all of them.

The Semi-Weekly Republic

The Hosterman Publishing Co.,

SPRINGFIELD, OHIO.

GEO. S. BECK, Ad Manager.

If you compare the American Newspaper Directory of 1895 with the same book of 1894, you will find that the circulation of FARM NEWS advanced splendidly in spite of the frightful depression in all lines of business during that entire year.

The circulation of FARM NEWS during the coming year will aggregate more than 160,000 per issue.

The reputation of FARM NEWS as being the best strictly farm paper published anywhere in the world will be maintained during the coming year ; and every number will be copyrighted.

FARM NEWS will not accept "off," "fake," or doubtful advertising at any price ; but will continue guaranteeing the reliability of every firm using its advertising columns.

The advertising rate of FARM NEWS has been, and will continue to be, the lowest quoted by any paper of its class in the world having a circulation of like guaranteed extent and character.

FARM NEWS has received hundreds of complimentary letters from its advertising patrons during the past year ; and thousands of letters of the same kind from subscribers.

There is not a reputable advertising agency in the United States that will refuse to heartily recommend the use of the ad columns of this model farm paper.

The 4 BIG Weeklies :

THE NEW ERA (National Edition).
THE NEW ERA (Ohio Edition).
THE BEACON.
THE KENTUCKY NEW ERA.

Circulation Covers the Entire Nation.

THE NEW ERA (National Edition)
circulates throughout the entire United States outside of Ohio and Kentucky.

THE NEW ERA (Ohio Edition)
circulates in every county, and in nearly every township in Ohio.

THE BEACON
circulates throughout the Nation, but mainly outside of Ohio and Kentucky.

THE KENTUCKY NEW ERA
circulates throughout the State of Kentucky.

No Duplication of Circulation.

These four papers being different editions of one publication, adapted to different sections of the Union, there is no duplication of circulation. Each copy goes to a different family. The list covers the entire Union.

No Dead Subscribers.

Our subscription terms are brief and plain. "Cash with order and all papers stopped at the end of time paid for."

There are therefore no dead names on our list—no papers sent out to persons who are dead or moved away, or don't want the paper, or who are too poor to pay for the paper and therefore too poor to buy goods. Every name on the list represents a family that wants the paper, pays for it, and having paid for it reads it.

The Live Advertiser advertises in live newspapers that go to live lists of live subscribers.

Advertising rates low, considering circulation.

If I was sick I wouldn't send for a blacksmith, would you? If I got into a snarl that was likely to get me into court I wouldn't consult a physician, would you? If I wanted to borrow money I wouldn't go to a beggar, would you?

In all departments of human affairs there are emergencies where the advice of an expert is needed. Just so in advertising. It is fully as expensive and oftentimes as dangerous to experiment with poor advertising as to set fire to gunpowder in an inclosure. You can't afford to hire an experienced man; but there's another way: Subscribe for "Printers' Ink," and get all for $2.00 a year.

Competent to Express an Opinion.

Speaking of the American Newspaper Directory, Mr. S. C. Beckwith, the most successful of the New York special agents, says:

"I see it wherever I go.

"Prominent advertisers are constantly consulting it.

"When I approach an advertiser for a paper that I represent, the first thing he does is to spring Rowell on me.

"He hunts up the city and the paper; looks at the rating the Directory gives and then is ready to listen to me; but not till then.

"The new plan that permits placing an advertisement where an advertiser's eye may see it, at the very time when he is consulting the Directory for the purpose of deciding what papers to use in a specified State or city, pleases me.

"It has led me to urge all of my papers strongly to use advertising space in the Directory for 1894.

"An advertisement in such a position cannot be skipped.

"The advertiser sees the advertisement at just the moment when he is most interested in finding out about the particular paper.

"If the advertisement is truthful and its statements well expressed, it cannot fail to do good.

"I have already placed orders for five of my papers, four being for a full page each, and one for a quarter of a page, and every one is in the best position.

"Before the book goes to press I hope to have all of my papers represented in it, and I realize that the sooner the order is in the freer my choice of position will be.

"It was my personal knowledge and experience of the power of the book to be of service to me that has induced me to obtain these orders. I have not been asked to do so. No solicitor has approached me.

"This book has practically obliterated the idea that a newspaper directory is a blackmailing affair. It treats friends and foes all alike; and every publisher may have his circulation stated exactly as it is, if he knows himself and will tell.

"A book rendering such a service to the better class of newspapers deserves to be patronized and protected, aided and encouraged."

THE $100 REWARD.

When any one questions the accuracy of a guaranteed circulation rating in the American Newspaper Directory, and makes an attempt to collect the $100 reward offered in a case where the Directory has been imposed upon by an untruthful report, it becomes requisite, in order to obtain the reward, to furnish such proof as would be considered satisfactory by a Grand Jury or in a court of law when no defense is set up. Persons intending to enter a claim for the reward will do well to take the advice of a local attorney or a business man having experience in such matters. The publishers of the Directory pay the reward cheerfully when a case is made out, but it is not a part of their duty to aid in proving a publisher in the wrong, who, so far as they know, and would be glad to believe, may be absolutely right.

The Field and the Paper.

...OREGON...

AND THE

Portland Oregonian

This combination cannot be matched in all America.

Daily, 16,418.
Sunday, 23,211.
Weekly, 13,143.

And 44 Years in the Field.

These figures may not cause surprise, but they are a good deal for Oregon; and Oregon is a good deal to the Pacific Coast. Nor is Oregon the only field covered by THE OREGONIAN. Its supremacy over all the other papers published in Oregon, Washington, Idaho, and British Columbia was never more noticeable than it is to-day. While about all the other daily papers in this vast field have been steadily reducing their news service since the panic, THE OREGONIAN has as steadily increased its news service, and is THE representative paper of the entire Pacific Northwest.

H. L. PITTOCK, Manager and Treasurer. H. W. SCOTT, Editor.

S. C. BECKWITH,

Sole Agent Foreign Advertising,

48 Tribune Building, NEW YORK.

469 The Rookery, CHICAGO.

EVENING TELEGRAM; every evening except Sunday; democratic; six pages 18x24; subscription $6; established 1863; G. H. Moffett, editor and publisher; circulation, actual average for the past year, 9,256.

Advertisement.—THE TELEGRAM is the only evening paper in Portland, and has admittedly three times the circulation of any other afternoon paper printed north of San Francisco. It reaches over one hundred towns and villages outside of Portland every day. It cuts a big figure in its exclusive territory. Above average of 9,256 copies means over fifty thousand readers per day in that country.

MORNING OREGONIAN; every morning and WEEKLY, Fridays; republican; daily eight pages 18x24, Sunday sixteen pages, weekly twelve pages; subscription—daily $10, Sunday $2, weekly $2, weekly with Sunday $3.50; established—daily 1861, Sunday 1881, weekly 1850; Oregonian Publishing Co., editors and publishers; circulation, actual average for the past year—daily 15,221, Sunday 22,051, weekly 15,650. See publishers' announcement on opposite page.

Advertisement.—The Portland OREGONIAN has by far the largest circulation of any daily, Sunday or weekly paper printed north of San Francisco or west of Minneapolis. It presents as good an appearance as the publications of Chicago or St. Louis, and is the first newspaper to claim an advertiser's attention, not only for the city of Portland and the State of Oregon, but it is read by the most enterprising people in any direction throughout all the region within five hundred miles of its office.—PRINTERS' INK, Nov. 28, 1894.

IT IS

Brimful of
First-rate hints
On how
To advertise;
An advocate of Business push.
A foe
To business lies.

IT HELPS

The busy
Business man
Construct
A taking ad,
Or tells him where
The best of Brains
For money
May be had.

ALL ADVERTISERS
NEED
IT:
PRINTERS' INK,
A Live Journal for Advertisers.

NEW YORK.

IT COSTS

Two dollars
By the year
For issues
Fifty-two;
And ev'ry number's
Such a gem,
You'll read it
Thro' and thro'.

IT PAYS

To read what
Experts say
On how
They won success.
So send the cash
And let it come
At once
To your address.

$25 REWARD.

Any publisher who placed on file at the Directory office a true statement, conveying the requisite information concerning the issues of his paper, covering a full year, the same being duly signed and dated, and who finds now that the book has appeared his paper is not rated in accordance with the report which he sent, will receive from the publishers of the Directory a written apology for their neglect and a check for $25 for the discovery of the error. The publisher who registered the letter he sent containing the circulation statement, will find it easy to prove that one was sent and received. If he kept a copy it will be equally easy to establish the fact that the statement sent actually did contain the requisite information and was properly signed and dated.

Why I Take Printers' Ink

Because it contains weekly the very essence of successful advertising. Because any advertiser can obtain more HINTS, SUGGESTIONS, ADVICE out of one issue than he could buy for ten times the subscription price ($2.00). Because PRINTERS' INK is a practical helper to the novice advertiser—and a mine of fresh ideas to the experienced one. A sample copy (free) sent from 10 Spruce St., New York. It's worth writing for!

George T. Kinnear, Baltimore, Md.

After December 31st, 1895, the subscription price will be increased to $5.00 a year.
